Grandpa was a great person and always a happy force in the world. He accepted his illness and dealt with it with grace. He will never be forgotten. He was an amazing, friendly, wise, and a very fun person to be around at any given time. RIP Grandpa I Love You

From our first introduction, Jim made a point of remembering my name, making me feel welcome. I can only hope that I can emulate Jim's firm but polite demeanor. Once he reminded me that stopping for ice cream was not an acceptable reason for being tardy to a meeting. Thanks for always being a friend to our family. Do you have to have tee times in heaven? Our hearts are broken, our tears are bittersweet. Though this chapter in our life is through, we are so grateful for the wonderful memories God granted us. To grow up together and share an unconditional love has been a priceless gift. Bill and I will both miss Jim's unconditional love for everyone. I know this past 8 months were not easy but he still participated as much as he could. He always seemed to stay calm and accepted his disease without complaining. He will definitely be missed in the rooms, that's for sure.

Jim was probably the kindest and bravest man that I have had the pleasure to have known. He was a wonderful example of humility, gratitude and goodness. I will always value our meaningful conversations and time shared. Our lives and journeys are better because of his presence, his smile and his unique laugh. His passing leaves a pretty big void in the lives of many, but the memories of a very special man live on. Thank you to Mary, John and Mike for sharing him with us - our love, thoughts and prayers are with you. Ken & Rae Dunbrook
