It's difficult to express the influence my sister Pat had on my life, exposing me to art, music, literature and Cleveland sports. I forgive her for being a Yankees fan. She was always there for me no matter the highs and lows of my life. You could count on her to take a moment and listen to what you had to say. She was so proud of her home in Olmsted Township and loved working outside with her flowers. She became a Mom to Jerry and Richard in their times of need and never ever asked anything in return. She became the prototype of the independent woman who forged her own path in life. But it is her kindness that I will remember most and Pat, I am really sorry you and Richard didn't get to see the Browns in a Super Bowl. Perhaps the TV reception will be good in heaven when they finally get there and the both of you can crab and complain about the quarterback and crappy ref calls!

The world is much poorer. Pat was generous to so many people. She welcomed me to New York one Summer when I was in high school and provided an adventure I still remember and hold dear. She had more faith in me than I did. Her smile would light a room and she was so kind yet honest. I regret I cannot join you on Saturday but will be there in prayer and Spirit.

How many memories can you store? Living in the projects with Pat as our "nanny"; building snowmen n South Lorain; Visiting her in 1958 in NY and bringing her to Ohio for Thanksgiving" all of these (and more) are part of our family history, which you forget about until you realize that one person is no longer with us. Goodbye, Pat; we love you and will pray for you.

Aunt Pat and I spent the best times together. She had a tradition of taking her nieces to the ballet and instilling the love for Cleveland sports. She spoiled me to pieces by always taking me to get school clothes which always followed by lunch and ice cream. I will always cherish our special times together. Last year we had lunch together before the pandemic and she said "I bet you hope I will live forever" I told her you always will.

Aunt Pat was a big part of my childhood. She took me to the ballet, museums, and Indians games. She taught me to swear at the TV during the Browns games. We shared lots of laughs together and she will always hold a special place in my heart. I am a better person because of her.

Many people will have good memories of my sister Pat. She was generous when some of us needed help. She loved the Turton Family even our warts. Since she and I are only 14 months apart in ages, we shared friends and school events. I would like to share some stories many of you do not know. In her younger days, Pat had a pleasant soprano voice. She was a member of the junior high choir. Saturday nights sing-along with our friends, the Fenicks featured Steve & Pat singing and Dad on piano. good old melodies. wonder why she didn't sing much later in life. In sophomore year at LHS. she won a 25$ bond writing the winning essay on What It means to be an American. Her health was deteriorating after age of 15 and she missed a lot of school. There was no home schooling or tutoring in those days. Mom had her dropout. Later on. Pat on her own finished school through a mail program. Later on in life, she told me she did not want to drop out because she had a childhood dream of going to the senior prom. Lastly. she told me she wanted her ashes scattered over the Lake. Goodby Sis. you made a success of a life that handed you a lot of lemons. A model for others who might give up without trying.

Will always have fond memories of Aunt Pat. I admired her independence. She introduced me to the ballet, opera, the city and boysenberry sorbet. Aunt Pat was always a part of our holidays and made several trips to visit me across the country. Much Love- Barb
