I knew Lou for more than 10 years and been working side by side with him in the past few years. He is one of the best people you do not have luck to meet every day! He is the person with greatest personality and biggest heart - he is not only my boss, co-work, but also my best friend. A person I can always open my heart to, count on and trust with everything. He is the one always there for you. It is such a great pleasure to work with him. He is the sunshine in our department. During his last days at work, every day before I left work, I made sure I saw him and said "I love you, Lou" to him - I wanted him know that he is the person so special to all of us and We care and love him dearly. The blank spot left by his passaway in my heart will never be filled. Lou's life is short but has profound meaning to us - I have learned so much about life from him. He never complained about his illness and pain, always tried to show us a courageous face. He is my hero!! Lou took part of my heart with him when he went to heaven. I love you Lou and will miss you rest of my life. You'll live in my merory for ever!! Do not work too hard at heaven, you have right to get a good rest now.

I worked at WIL with Lou many years ago and I can honestly say that since that time, I have never met a kinder man. Lou always had a smile on his face and had a laugh that was contagious. My thoughts and prayers are with the family and just know that Lou touched the lives of many and made a lasting impression. Sincerely, Robyn Durr-Henry

As a co-worker I'm feel compelled to mention something about Lou's great work ethic. However, that's not what comes to mind when I think of Lou. I think of his warm personality. Lou had such a great way of relating to people. He made everyone feel special. We were improved, just by being around him. Ave atque vale.

Lou was a one-in-a-million kind of person. I'm not sure there was a single person that he did not like or get along with. He was always willing to offer a smile, joke or funny story with all those around him. No matter what the situation, he always tried to make sure things were fair and that everyone was happy. He was a wonderful, special person who will be missed by all of those who knew him. Love you Lou!

It breaks my heart to hear about Lou. He was one of the kindest, most generous, and funniest person I have met. He said hello to everyone and could make any work situation seem funny. He always went out of his way to help people. He trained me one time on how to use a certain piece of equipment. He then sent me a little diploma he made on a Post-it and signed it "Dean Kachut" and said I graduated at the top of my class. We will miss him so much here. My heart goes out to his family and we are keeping you in our thoughts and prayers.

Lou is one of the people that I will always remember from WIL. I loved is humor and his laugh as he would tell a story about one of his trips to a highland games festival. He was one of the kindest, most generous men I have ever had the privilege to work with, and he will be missed by all of his friends. God bless you Lou, you were special in many ways.
