Irene taught me a lot at my first office job at Elyria City. Lynn, I hope you are doing OK. I think of all of the good times we had working together. Irene showed me how to work hard and be committed to your job. I'm sure there are so many that learned from her through all the years of running the office. I've thought of all of you often through the years. My prayers and best to all in the Branscum family.
