“ its hard to belive that you were my babysitter, you ben & my grandparents were neighbors for over twenty years. i was over every single day. playing with your grandchildren. i remember the painting you did in the basement, of the forest. it covers the entire wall. i still see it every single day when i go over there. you used to have a little rocking chair in the living room. that all of us use to be OBBSESSED with. i just recently found a picture in my room of me sitting on it. it made me smile ? i wish i could have come over and visit you and ben after you moved. i stilll go past that house every day. im hesitant to ever stop by. im not sure if ben remembers me.. maybe i will sometime soon though. its hard to belive that you guys moved so long ago. it doesnt feel like that long, it feels like it was just last week, i feel like im in first grade again, instead of going into freshman year @ the northridgeville high right after summer ends. all i really have to say is that i miss you, so much.

“ Ben,
I will miss Elsa everyday, She is and always will be one of the greatest, strongest, and most honest people that I have ever met. She has always been an awesome shoulder to lean on. In your time of grief, I wish u peace as I know Elsa would wish the same for you. She was a spitfire with a great sense of humor and honory independent streak. I hope all of these qualities shine through in your granddaughter's hearts as i'm sure she will be looking down on them as well as you and the boys. So take care and lean on the boys and let them lean on you as now is the time you will need each other the most. RIP Elsa!

“ Ben, Brian & Keith. I thank you for sharing Elsa with me. She was a joy to always be around. Eventhough it is hard for us to let go and the pain can be unbearable sometimes remember that she is at peace. Rest in peace Elsa, my friend.

“ Ben, Brian & Keith, I am so sorry to hear of your mom passing. I did have the opportunity several years to sit and visit with her on a couple of occasions. It was nice to reminisce about when we were all young. We talked about the band we had in your basement and the reunion dance we had on your back patio. I will keep you in my prayers, asking the Lord to give you comfort.

“ Ben, Brian, Keith,

Although we knew the time was short for Elsa when we saw her and all of you it still hit like a ton of bricks when we got the call from Ben. Our last visit with Elsa was bittersweet....she was still fighting and had retained her sense of humor. While Ben & Rog talked Elsa and I talked about so many things in the past....from when the boys were young and our good choices of husbands. Although we both knew it would be the last time we talked we laughed and had a wonderful visit. I've had the privelege to know both Ben & Elsa for over 34 years (Rog has known been 54 years and Elsa since they married!)and a greater couple who loved each other very much would be difficult or impossible to be found.

We are so sorry to loose Elsa and our deepest sympathy goes out to all of you.
